4. Conclusion

After analyzing the research findings, the authors conclude that the slang used in the film Hustle can be classified into community slang, worker slang, and public house slang. These three types of slang can be found in the script of the film The Hustle. Slang words or phrases have been written in texts such as bullshit, bitch, bloody hell, bad luck, poor, what’s up, my friends and nana, heat, murder, liquidity, gold diggers.

Of the types of slang the author mentioned above, community slang is the slang most often used in film. The reason for the character of language is because this film takes a lot of background places that are closely related to the community. They spontaneously create new words that they can use to approach their relationship. Some of the slang languages they use to express their feelings with others. People in the community consider slang as a fad or a new trend. They create their own words and phrases that can only be understood by their own groups to enrich language in society.
